NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATOR.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE undersigned Public Administrator of Washoe county, State of Nevada, as such has been duly appointed and qualified by the District Court of the second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, for Washoe county, as Administrator of the estate of John W. Crotty, late of said county deceased, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file the same with proper vouchers with the clerk of said court within sixty days after the first publication of this notice, or the same will be forever barred.

Walking the Floor.

When a business man gets to the point where he cannot sleep at night, where he is so shattered of nerve that it is torture to even remain in his bed, and he has to get up and walk the floor—it is time for him to bring himself up with a round turn. If he does not, it means nervous prostration and mental, if not physical, death.

For a man who gets into this condition there is a remedy that will brace him up, put him on his feet and make a man of him again. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It goes to the bottom of things. It searches out the first cause. When a man is in this condition you can put your finger on one of two spots and hit that first cause—the stomach or the liver or both. This great medicine acts directly on these spots. It properly transforms a weak stomach into a healthy one. It facilitates the flow of digestive juices and makes digestion and assimilation perfect. It gives a man an appetite like a boy's. It invigorates the liver. It fills the blood with the life-giving elements of the food, and makes it pure, rich, red and plentiful. The blood is the life current, and when it is filled with the elements that build new and healthy tissues, it does not take long to make a man well and strong. It builds firm, muscular flesh tissues and strong and steady nerve fibers. It puts new life, vigor and vitality into every atom and organ of the body. It cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. Nothing "just as good" can be found at medicine stores.

"I had suffered about eleven years with a pain in the back of my head and back," writes Mr. Robert Hubbard, of Varner, Lincoln Co., Ark. "I suffered for eleven years and spent a great deal of money for doctors and medicine, but did not get relief. I tried four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and improved greatly. I sent for five more and now am glad to tell everyone that I am in good health."

Purifying the Air.

It is found in many factories that the hands do much more work in a given time if they have good air to breathe. Some firms have quite elaborate provisions for the purifying of the atmosphere of the workrooms.

In the absence of these a simple plan is to put a spoonful of oil of turpentine into a liter bottle of well water, shake it well, and then blow it about the room through an atomizer. An improvement is to mix a few drops of acetate ether with the turpentine.—St. Louis Republic.

Thou-ing.

To persons of lesser rank one saith "You," without thou-ing anybody, be it not some little child, and that thou wert much more aged and that the custom itself amongst the meek courteous and better bred were to speak in such manner. What concerneth familiar friends, amongst them the custom doth comport in certain places that they "Thou" one another more freely, in other places one's more reserved.—"Youths' Behavior," 1652.

The Bride of Easter.
The Easter bride will be a very extravagant article, for the spring fabrics which are now being displayed in the shops are extremely high priced. One can scarcely give an idea of the extreme delicacy of the thin goods and the cost and elegance of the linings.
This is to be a season of rich linings and the dress of the bride shares the peculiarity of other costumes, for it is very thin and is worn over a satin lining.
One bride's gown designed by a very high priced Paris house of designers is of the finest silk tulle, with a double skirt or drop skirt made over a lining of the heaviest white satin.
The bodice is also of fine silk tulle over white satin. The yoke is embroidered in pearls and the vest, as the part of the waist below the yoke is called, is composed of deep ruffles of the finest, thinnest tulle, one falling over the other.
The belt, which is a queer affair, not unlike a girdle with the point at the side instead of the front, is of white and also embroidered in pearl trimming.
A few white flowers at the belt are the only ornaments, save a tiara of pearls, which this bride is so fortunate as to possess.—Philadelphia Times.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE

The Virginia Report of last Tuesday contained an article relative to the history of the constitutional bill, which from its general tenor, led the JOURNAL to suppose that it was intended as a justification of the veto, and so replied to it. Our Virginia contemporary, however, disclaims such intention, as appears by the following from its Friday's issue:

Our object in publishing a long account of that Constitutional Convention bill was to defend the characters of the attaches which had been aspersed by different organs of the Pharisee press, and not to defend Governor Sadler's course in the matter. In fact, we think that the Governor would have done better to have maintained a "voileferous silence" about the matter, as a poor excuse is worse than none at all. The business of vetoing bills because of errors, real or presumed, in their history, or because of irregularities in the proceedings of either house of the legislature, is about played out. If he thought the bill in question was a good one, he should have signed it, and showed his good will by giving it a chance before the Supreme Court. If he vetoed it because he thought it was a bad measure, he should have the courage to say so, and give the reasons why it was a bad one—if he could name any. We assure our esteemed contemporary, the JOURNAL, that we have no desire to undertake the office of apologist for Governor Sadler; life is too short.

NOT FOR NEVADA.

Somebody figures that enough water runs to waste in this State during the spring floods to cover the valleys ten feet deep, if it were stored. Possibly few now living will see it, but some day the whole irrigation question will be under government control, the water will be stored and distributed as it should be, and dry years will, over most of the State, be eternally forgotten.—Exchange.

No one now living, nor their grandchildren, will ever see the day when Nevada will be benefited by any national assistance in the promotion of an irrigation system, if the State is continued to be represented as it now is in the United States Senate. Nevada's representation in that body is as large as that of New York, and their votes are as powerful as those from the Empire State. Yet nothing has been accomplished nor even seriously attempted to secure national aid for the promotion of any of our interests or industries. In the consideration of appropriations for "Internal Improvements," Nevada cuts no more figure than a coral reef in the Pacific Ocean. Her Senators are too busy attending to improvements of California harbors and the interests of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to waste their precious time upon such a little outside matter as that of a national appropriation for assisting private enterprise in storing the waste waters of our Nevada streams.

THERE is a proposition being discussed, probably unofficially, for an exchange of the Philippines for the British West Indies. Whether such exchange is seriously considered by either the United States or Great Britain is probably not known outside of diplomatic circles. It is to be hoped, however, that it is in contemplation and that the project will be effected. The Philippines are now a sore burden to our Government and will doubtless prove a heavy load for years to come. The sooner we get rid of them the better it will be for the nation, especially if such a desirable bargain can be effected in making an exchange of that distant territory for the peaceful isles in close proximity to our continent. It would be a good "swap" certainly for the United States and perhaps equally as advantageous to Great Britain.

It is evident that Quay cannot secure the requisite number of votes to elect him United States Senator from Pennsylvania, and he is determined that no one else shall be elected. His excuse is that he is determined to stay to the finish in the interest and integrity of the Republican organization of the old Keystone State. If the integrity of the Republican party in Pennsylvania can only be maintained by such a man as Quay, the G. O. P. in that State must be in nearly as pitiful a plight as the Silver party in Nevada, which, to maintain its "principles," was forced to elect a congressional attorney of the Southern Pacific Company.

NEVADANS can at least boast that there are no trusts in their State. It would perhaps be better for them if there were. At least a few of our people would be benefited by them, while as it is, all of us are made victims to those of other States. From a moral standpoint Nevada is all right, but from a financial point of view, the question is whether it is better to be a robber or a victim of robbers.

THE JOURNAL will give the odds of a standard silver dollar against a hundred dollar jawbone promise of Senator Stewart, that more than ninety percent of the delegates to the next National Democratic Convention will favor the re-adoption of the financial plank of the 1896 platform, and will vote for the nomination of Wm. J. Bryan for President on the first ballot.

FATAL FIRE.

The County Hospital at Virginia Destroyed and One Life Lost.

The county hospital at Virginia City was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. There were thirty-five inmates all of whom were rescued, with the exception of Joseph Rich, who was found in the ruins later in the day. Several of the inmates were feeble minded and it was with the greatest difficulty that they were saved as they persisted in returning into the burning building after they were taken out. The man who was burned to death was seen on the outside, but it is supposed that he returned to save some treasured article. After the flames were discovered there was an explosion which scattered the fire through the building and prostrated several of the inmates on the outside.

BRKVITIES.

Shearing sheep by steam power is being generally adopted east of the Rocky mountains.

Nevada potatoes are worth on Nevada farms $48 per ton. It is a wise man who plants potatoes.

After reading the evidence in the embalmed beef inquiry, it looks as though the butchers sell all the good meat they can, and then what they can't they can.

The three men arrested on suspicion of committing the daring robbery at Guttridge's saloon at Elko, a few nights ago, have been released, there being not enough evidence to hold them.

For the best of everything in wines and liquors, Thyes is the place to go. He will sell you better goods for less money than any other store in the city. He carries the stock and knows how to buy.

One of the biggest of recent discoveries in the line of mines is a six-inch vein of ore which will go $250 to the ton. The mine is at Oreana, Humboldt county. It merely indicates what there is in Nevada.—Silver State.

Those claiming to be versed on the habits of trout predict an unusually good season for fishing next summer as they run up stream in great numbers in times of high water and we have had plenty of high water in the river.—Elko Tidings.

The Appeal says the Sadler side of the gubernatorial controversy is losing no good sleep over the outcome. When we look at the personnel of the Supreme Court we can readily understand that their faith is well founded.—Times Review.

Charles Hanks, a Nevada rancher, is much wanted in California. He has fallen heir to something like $50,000. Hanks, so far, has not been made aware of his good fortune. Here is a chance for somebody to hunt up a man to tell him of a good thing.

A small colored boy wandered into the San Francisco Stock and Exchange board on Thursday and there was a grand rush of brokers to rub his woolly head to bring them luck, each one that succeeded feeling the juvenile coon with nickels and dimes.

Sheriff Kinney, says the Carson News, has undertaken the reform of the youngsters who persist in staying on the streets at night. He gathers them in and keeps them in jail until about midnight when they are glad enough to go straight home. This plan would have a salutary effect on the Reno juvenile contingent.

Eggs and Germ.

It was formerly thought that an egg must be safe eating whatever the surroundings, since its shell covered completely the part eaten, but it has now been shown unmistakably that germs of disease can even find their way through an eggshell. For instance, the typhus bacillus and the cholera bacillus have both been found to make their way through an unbroken eggshell in about 16 hours and locate themselves in the nutrient contents.

This is a clear indication, therefore, that the greatest care should be exercised in the storage and handling of eggs, since they may thus be made vehicles for most deadly poisons. Doubtless the immunity from such evils which we enjoy in our use of eggs as food is due to the fact that we generally cook them in a high temperature before we eat them and thus deal death to the germs and safety to ourselves.—Good Words.

Treating Lockjaw.

Recently a young man in New Jersey was treated successfully for tetanus by the injection of serum into the brain. That is not the method of treating lockjaw out in Missouri. Several years ago a citizen of Liberty, Mo., was suffering from tetanus. Local physicians failed to relieve him, and Dr. Wood of Kansas City, a gruff old gentleman, was called. Arriving at the home of the patient he found the room full of sympathizing neighbors. The physician proceeded toward the sick man and remarked, "Why in — don't you shut your mouth?" at the same time giving him a severe "chuck" under the chin. The effect of the blow caused the mouth to close, and the man soon recovered.—Chicago Post.

Coronet

This word is used throughout the Australian colonies in connection with a coroner's inquiry. It does not figure in any dictionary that I am aware of not even in Professor Morris' "Austral-English." It seems distinctly journalistic. How does the "i" come in, for one could understand the expression "a coronal inquiry?" Is it a variant of "corony + al?" Perhaps somewhat akin to the formation of "baronial" from "barony + al."—Notes and Queries.

Wasted.

"I didn't know you were so sarcastic when I married you."
"Did you not? Possibly you have forgotten I said, 'This is so sudden,' when you proposed after four years' courtship."—Collier's Weekly.

Or if you do not like the first lot you can go back and they will give you the 50 cents.

RENO DRAMATIC CLUB RETURNS.

The Company Was Warmly Welcomed at Wadsworth.

The Reno Dramatic Club played "The Black Flag" to a large and enthusiastic audience in Wadsworth last Friday night.

The performance was given in Music Hall, where a stage and drop curtain had been recently erected and placed in position that the Reno Thespians might have but small ground for complaint on the score of inadequate facilities for producing the play in the bustling little railroad town.

The company left Reno at 8 o'clock Friday morning, and soon after their arrival at Wadsworth commenced fitting up the stage and making all possible preparation for their evening performance. It was the firm resolve of the dramatic club to please the Wadsworth people by giving them a good play. The club contains a number of University men and women, who remember the splendid manner in which they were received last year when they were with the University minstrels, and Reno people are apt to remember a warm welcome longer than the Atlantic cable, so to speak.

The curtain rose shortly after 8 o'clock, and an admiring burst of applause greeted the attractive appearance of the stage setting. The play was heartily appreciated all the way through, and after the concluding scene some three hours later, when Manager Dann came forward and announced that a dance was next in order, and thanked the people for their liberal patronage, he was greeted with a roar of applause. The dance continued until 1 o'clock, when the people dispersed to their homes, all expressing satisfaction with their evening's entertainment.

District Court.

The claim of the Office Specialty company against Washoe county was taken up yesterday, and proceedings conducted in the office of the County Clerk according to the Act approved by the State Legislature on March 9, 1899. George Alt was the appraiser appointed by the attorney of the Specialty company, and George Turrettin the one by majority vote of the Board of County Commissioners. The Auditor failed to appoint the third appraiser, as specified by the law.

The appraisers heard the testimony and will set a value upon the steel cases. Their decision must be ratified by the Board before it can be filed with the Clerk as a true claim against the county. The amount the Specialty company desires to obtain is $1498.

The case of J. J. Quinn vs. Al White, the former suing to recover $1242 debt incurred by White for rent and supplies was decided today in favor of the plaintiff, the jury deliberating upon the evidence only an hour. The case was a hotly contested one, able arguments being presented by the attorneys on both sides. Quinn's attorneys were Hayden, Webster & Copeland, and Judge Curlier, while Wren, Julian and Cheney acted for the defendant.

James Mead was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and sentenced to one year's confinement in the State Prison at Carson by Judge Curlier. Sheriff McInnis left for Carson with the prisoner in his charge a few hours after.

Liable to Criminal Prosecution.

The Postmaster General has made a decision in regards to postmasters who fail to notify the publishers of their papers from the office, to the effect that such postmasters shall be held responsible for the amount of each subscription. The new postal law says that anyone subscribing for a paper and refusing to pay for it, shall be liable to criminal prosecution.

Although some of the JOURNAL subscribers have failed to pay their subscriptions, with but one exception none have "refused" to do so. That exception is Wm. M. Stewart. He received the paper regularly for more than six years upon his own order, when, a few months ago he ordered it stopped, with the lying statement in his letter that he never ordered it sent to him.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

NEVADA GIRLS LOSE.

Berkeley Wins the Basket-ball Game by a Score of 7 to 3.

After a close hard game with the California basket-ball team yesterday afternoon the Nevada girls were defeated by a score of 7 to 3. The game was nearly even throughout and not even those most familiar with the sport could guess which team would win at any time before the end.

From a financial point of view the game was a success. A large number of seats were sold before the Nevada team went down and the door receipts were greater than expected.

The Berkeley girls assembled in large numbers on one side of the hall, where they rooted for their team with songs and college yells which would have made a football side-liner ashamed of himself. A number of co-eds came up to the city from Stanford University to witness the game. They sat apart from the Berkeley co-eds and rooted vigorously for the Nevada team. The Nevada team is not at all discouraged by the defeat and will play against Stanford Monday with added experience and more vim and determination than ever.

Work on the N-C-O Extension.

There is nothing new to record regarding the railroad extension. It is all work and no talk with the N-C-O. At the rate they are now proceeding they will have finished track laying to the summit and will be grading on the plateau toward Secret Valley by the first of May. The blustery and stormy weather which prevailed during the month of March and which mitigated against the work, causing delay, is now over and indications now presage good weather, so that there need be no further delay from that reason. Our Modoc friends are anxiously awaiting the advent of the iron horse. Already real estate values have taken an upward tendency and from the tone of the northern press it would indicate that the people of Northeastern California, by reason of the extension, have inaugurated a general improvement. The railroad will do much for the North.—Lassen County Mail.

The Mail to Dewey.

T. K. Hymers has been authorized by the Postoffice Department to take charge of the weekly mail between Reno and Dewey "until other arrangements can be made." What the "other arrangements" are we do not know. We do know, however, that some eastern parties took the contract at the ridiculously low terms of $250 a year, and the present hitch is doubtless the result of such financial tomfoolery. Mr. Hymers sent out the first mail, under the instructions, last Thursday.

Reduced Fare.

The national anniversary of the Baptist Church will be held in San Francisco May 24th. Arrangements have been made for reduced rates on the Central Pacific for those who desire to attend. The rate is one and one-fifth for the round trip; that is, the passenger pays full rate one way and one-fifth the regular fare on return. The rate for the round trip from Reno will be about twelve dollars. We understand this is good for thirty days.

THE SENTRY DRANK.

But General Meade Did Not Happen to See Him Do It.

At a little village on the Snake River I met an old soldier who related this incident of his experience with General Meade in the civil war. I have forgotten his name and the place where it occurred. It was a raw night in October, the wind was rather strong, and Meade had fixed a stove in his tent. The soldier was the sentry for the general. A puff of wind knocked down the improvised stovepipe, and soon the tent filled with smoke. The general came out and asked the sentry to help him to rearrange it. The soldier replied that he was under orders and could not leave his post.

"Yes, yes," said Meade, "that is true, but I would like to have that stovepipe fixed. You are right." And the general went at the job himself.

"I kept pacing my beat," said the soldier, "and enjoyed Meade's efforts to get the pipe back in its place. He made a sorry mess of it. Finally he turned to me and said: 'Sentry, you will have to help me. I will be responsible for you, and if there is any trouble about your leaving the beat I will explain to the officer.'

"In a few minutes we had the pipe in position. Meade disappeared into the tent without a word of thanks, but he soon came out with a jug of applejack and asked me to take a drink. Once more I reminded him I was on duty. 'Yes, yes,' he answered, 'I know, but you helped me to fix the stovepipe.'

"He turned on his heel and re-entered the tent, leaving the jug outside. After a time he came out.

"Did you drink?" he inquired. I nodded.

"I knew you would, but I did not see it."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Origin of the Postal System.

The wonderful postal system, which has reached out until it includes every country on the face of the earth, had its beginning in the mind of an ingenious Frenchman.

In 1658, early in the reign of Louis XIV, M. de Velayer established a private penny post. Boxes were set up at the street corners for the reception of letters and offices were opened in various quarters of Paris. Collections were made once a day from the street boxes, followed many hours later by a single delivery, and thus the first postoffice in the world was established.

M. de Velayer was so greatly encouraged by the success of his enterprise that in order to develop it still further he printed certain forms of billets or notes which were intended to cover all the ordinary requirements of business in great towns. These forms contained blanks which were intended to be filled up by the pen with such special matter as might be necessary to complete the writer's object. The idea at once became popular, and the printed forms accompanied the expansion of the postal service throughout the larger cities of France, and it was many years before they fell into disuse.—Harper's Round Table.

Still Smoking Twelve Years After.

The man had been absent from New York for a number of years. During his absence many changes had taken place. Some of his friends had moved away and some had died. Though he had taken the New York papers pretty regularly, he had not kept up with these friends of his as he should have done.

One evening he called upon a woman friend who was living at a hotel. Arrived at her rooms, he found her surrounded by a crowd of people, but he finally reached her and shook her by the hand.

"You are just the same," he said admiringly. "You haven't changed a particle," which was not at all true, for her hair had turned so white that she had the air of a marquis in some old picture. "And your husband, too," he went on, "he is just the same as ever. I saw him just now down in the lobby. He was smoking."

The woman looked a trifle startled for a moment, then recovered her composure with considerable effort.

"I am sorry to hear," she remarked gravely, "that my husband is still smoking. He has been dead for 13 years."—New York Sun.

The Real Sacrifice.

It always requires a great soul to make a real sacrifice of self. Many people seem to think that love is a negative quality which enables one to suffer like a lamb at the sacrificial altar. But love is splendidly positive, a martial virtue. Self sacrifice is not the action of tender, unselfish souls who lie down with closed eyes and submit their throats to the edge of steel. The soldier who ventures all to carry forward the banner that he loves is the better type. It requires a great soul to prefer another's interest to his own, to yield with no vain regret and then go bravely forward to work for the success of the new plan. For it is no small test of greatness when a man is called upon to see another grow greater than himself. It is the mark of small souls that the whole world is bounded by the horizon of their own lives.—Exchange.

Quite Clever.

Bob—How do you stand with your employer so well, Tom? You never laugh at his jokes.

Tom—No, but I dine at the same restaurant, and pretending not to see him I retail all his stories, saying loudly, "I can't tell it so well as he can, but here's a rattling good yarn Mr. D. told us this morning." I've been promoted three times in a year.—Answers.

Heat and Fuel Savers.

How long are you going to "get along" with that old cookstove that burns more fuel than a furnace and heats the outdoors more than it does the oven?

A very little money will buy one of our cookstoves—you'll save the price in fuel in one season. It will keep the heat where it ought to be, and cook your food as it ought to be cooked. Come in and examine them.
